History

Custom-Designed, Custom Built

Victor Spane set the standard for quality and innovations when he founded Spane Buildings in 1945. His techniques were so notable he was awarded several patents. That standard still serves as the foundation for how Spane Buildings are constructed today.

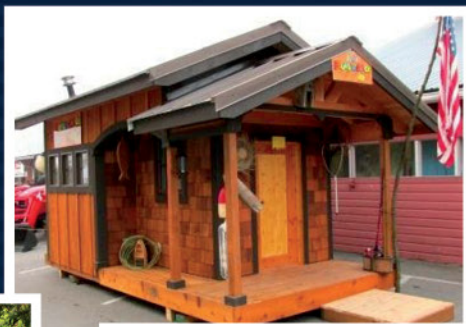

We've been constructing the finest garages, horse arenas, barns, private residences, and commercial structures throughout Western Washington for 70 years. Our buildings are known for their beauty, functionality, and long-lasting value.

- Safety First: Keeping a safe workplace benefits everyone.
- Local Craftsmen: We employ highly qualified local craftsmen who are committed to completing your project on time and on-budget.
- Highest Quality: We focus on using the best materials available.
- Building for the Future: We're actively involved in local, regional, and state building industry associations.
- Support Local Business: We support local businesses and non-profits, and we make every effort to use local supplies/suppliers.

"We interviewed several builders in our area to build our pole barn. We also visited several sites of the builders we interviewed, and SPANE BUILDINGS stood out, due to quality and their ability to do what other builders said could not be done. SPANE did a great job, on time, and on budget."
Mr. and Mrs. Preston Baseel

"Spane Buildings built a custom stick-built carport/garage of my design, which turned out perfect. I am extremely pleased with the outcome. Everyone was extremely easy to work with. They offered constructive suggestions as the building went together which were incorporated as building progressed. The project was done on-time, the guys are hard workers and take pride in their building. They are efficient and skilled. I would not hesitate to recommend Spane Buildings to anyone who wants a quality building."

"All I can say is wow. Jim Spane and his crew are absolutely amazing. They were not only working hard they were smiling and happy. My husband has worked in commercial and residential construction for up to 25 years, managing crews of up to 20 people in the finish carpentry realm. He knows good work ethic and craftsmanship when he sees it, and he is supremely impressed with the beautiful shop building that reflects the professionalism of Spane Buildings. We couldn't be more pleased."

Even the framing lumber to build the mezzanine and interior walls was better quality than you will see at the local big box store. We couldn't be happier with our shop and would highly recommend them for your project."

"Jim Spane and Company have done two projects for me over the past three years. I am a repeat customer because of the quick turn-around from initial contact to completed building, attention to details, flexibility in the field, and willingness to let me complete the parts that fit my talent profile. Actually, the county said it best, when I asked if there were any modifications to the Spane plans, and they answered, 'Are you kidding? This is a Spane Building!' When the building inspector said, 'Give me a call if there is an earthquake, because I want to be in your building!' I became a Spane believer!"
